COGNITIVE SKILLS

AFFECTIVE SKILLS

DIVERGENT THINKING

CONVERGENT THINKING

★ Allow for incubation

- Defer judgment
- Go for quantity
- Make connections
- Seek novelty

- Apply affirmative judgment
- Keep novelty alive
- Stay focused
- Check your objectives

SO FAR SO GOOD...
CAN YOU HIGHLIGHT THE KEY DIFFERENCES?

Assessing the Situation

It's not just about identifying information relevant to the problem

It's about getting information that will help you decide which part of the process will be the most effective when starting your problem-solving.

Diagnostic Thinking

The ability to use information to make decisions about appropriate process steps to be taken.

MINDFULNESS

Diagnostic thinking is supported by the affective skill of Mindfulness.

Mindfulness begins in bringing awareness to current experience, attending thoughts, feelings, and sensations relative to the present situation by regulating the focus of attention.

Mindfulness is based in...
CURIOSITY

Wanting to know more – Being Inquisitive.

Which means engaging in exploratory behavior

A dark blue pen with a silver tip is positioned diagonally across the lower right portion of the image. It rests on a spiral-bound notebook with light blue lined pages. The notebook's metal spiral binding is visible on the left side. The background is a soft, out-of-focus light blue.

Speaking of exploratory behaviour...

Turn to a fresh page, and grab a pen...

Think of one personal or professional challenge you have in your real life.

DEEP BREATH

A close-up, slightly blurred photograph of a hand holding a pen, poised to write on a piece of paper. The background is a soft, out-of-focus grey. The text is overlaid on this image in a clean, white, sans-serif font.

Take the time to incubate on these questions,
and see if you develop any additional insight.

Restate your challenge by adding any new data or insights you've gathered through this process.

Brief Debrief and Potential Next Steps...
